

AAHRPP 2017 Annual Conference: Call for Session Proposals

AAHRPP is currently accepting session proposals for our 2017 annual conference in Detroit, Michigan, May 9 – 11, 2017

Opens: September 15, 2016

Closes: October 26, 2016

The 2017 AAHRPP Conference Planning Committee will, as always, invite presenters from accredited organizations to present innovative practices, “how to” ideas for meeting AAHRPP standards, and to share cutting edge ideas. However, this year, in an effort to include “not yet accredited” organizations, and consultants knowledgeable in human research protections, proposals will be accepted, for the main conference on May 10-11, from the larger research community.

The Conference Planning Committee has allocated a limited number of breakout sessions to be filled through proposals submitted by the research community. Those individuals not from an ‘accreditable’ organization should team up with an accredited or ‘accreditable’ organization and submit a joint proposal.

Proposals Should Include:

An abstract of 300 words or less

Format of the presentation

Proposed speakers

Submitting authors will be informed of their proposal status by November 30, 2016
